

Privacy Policy for BounceBack Rehab

Effective Date: February 2026

BounceBack Rehab respects your privacy and is committed to protecting your personal information.

Information We Collect We may collect:

- Basic account information (such as name or email, if provided)
- App usage data to improve performance and user experience
- Non-identifiable analytics related to app functionality

We do not collect or store sensitive medical records or protected health information (PHI).

How We Use Information Information is used to:

- Provide and improve app functionality
- Personalize user experience
- Maintain app security and performance
- Communicate important updates related to the app

Data Storage & Security Data is stored securely using industry-standard safeguards. We do not sell or share personal information with third parties for advertising purposes.

User Control Users may request deletion of their account data by contacting support.